Financial reporting by government and not-for-profit entities is a broad and diverse territory. The world of financial accounting and reporting can be divided into two hemispheres: for-profit business entities and not-for-profit entities. A large body of authoritative rules and standards called Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) have been hammered out over the years to govern accounting methods and financial reporting of business entities in the United States.

Government Accounting Vs. Profit Business Accounting ...

Government and nonprofit accounting are often lumped together as they both use fund accounting principles. However, the way in which they operate, organize financial information, and report on their data differ greatly. Below are the 3 major differences between nonprofit and government accounting processes.

3 Major Differences Between Government & Nonprofit Accounting

Accountants often refer to businesses as for-profit entities and to nonprofit organizations as not-for-profit entities, or NFPs. We will be using the more common term nonprofit instead of not-for-profit. Again, this is a very brief introduction to nonprofit accounting.

Introduction to Nonprofit Accounting | AccountingCoach

There are many differences between for-profit and nonprofit businesses as for-profit goals are maximizing profits in the interest of shareholders, while nonprofits need to lower costs while raising revenue. Not only are the goals and needs of nonprofits different than those of for-profit organizations, but their accounting is different too.
